

ANCIENT THANKSGIVING DAYS.

Thanksgiving Day was suggested, doubtless, by the Hebrew feast of the tabernacles, or "feast of ingathering at the end of the year." Its history in America begins as early as 1621. The occasional observance of such a day, formerly recommended by the civil authorities, was not unusual in Europe at an earlier date. In Holland the first anniversary of the deliverance of the city of Leyden from the siege, October 4, 1575, was kept as a religious festival of thanksgiving and praise. In the English church service, the fifth of November is so celebrated, in commemoration of the discovery of the gun-powder plot.

One of the most remarkable thanksgiving customs on record prevailed in Southampton and Easthampton, Long Island, Montauk Point, which consists of 9,000 acres, was owned by numerous proprietors in these towns, and used as a common pasturage for stock. The time of driving the herds home to winter was fixed at a meeting by the town council, "and it came," says the historian, "to be a rule from the period beyond which the memory of man runneth not that the Thursday of the week following the return of the cattle from Montauk should be observed as a day of thanksgiving."

At an early period of New England history, certain periods of prosperity were often made the occasions of public thanksgiving or feasts, and often a day of fasting and prayer was turned into a day of thanksgiving by what seemed an immediate answer to their prayers. Perhaps to recall to our minds that first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Fathers may put us to the blush. Often on this day have I heard such remarks as "I have no thanks to give; I have nothing for which to be thankful," from lips that it would seem might have had a life's work in framing words of praise and gratitude, no blessed were they in the health of themselves and their dear ones, while from some fancied trouble this great good was quite overlooked.—November Table talk.

Hill Nominated for 1892.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 7.—The Chronicle to-morrow, editorially will say of the Democratic defeat: The President's message, while it was honest and brave, caused his defeat. We regard the defeat of President Cleveland as a national calamity. This defeat does not mean the dissolution of the Democratic party. Four years from last Tuesday our party will march to victory under the leadership of David Hill or some other Democrat who is the nominee for the Presidency.

Depew Congratulates Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—The following telegram was received to-night by General Harrison: "General Ben Harrison: Happy congratulations. New York is supremely happy. The Republicans are jubilant and the Democrats are shedding tears." (signed) CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

The returns give assurance of a majority of from twelve to twenty in the House of Representatives. The victory of General Harrison is thus made complete by the certainty of Republican co-operation in Congress.

Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, would be a daisy for Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Cleveland will never again, while President, go fishing on Decoration Day.

Mr. Harrison will not write a letter advising the suspension of coinage of silver.

If the JOURNAL was President Gen. Alger would have a place in the Cabinet.

The Pacific Coast is entitled to a Cabinet position under Harrison.

Harrison is an able and clean man and will make a great President.

Warner Miller, of New York, ought to have a place in the Cabinet.

Surveyor General Irish still thinks Cleveland has been elected.

Matthias P. Quay is justly entitled to a seat in the Cabinet.

The Union soldier has been vindicated. Thank God.

Mr. Cleveland knows that a second term is a bad thing.

There are no figures to come that will pull down the flag.

The country has declared against the Milk bill.

The Star Spangled Banner still waves.

James G. Blaine, for Secretary of State.

The flag stays this time.

The Union forever.

An Unpublished Romance of the War.

Said a gentleman from Missouri at Willard's last night: "I noticed in the Post the other day an account of a young girl in California who wanted to be a cowboy, and who had run away from home two or three times in pursuance of that somewhat hazardous idea. I was reminded of an incident that fell under my observation in Western Missouri during the war. About forty miles east of Kansas City and near the little village of Kingsville, in Johnson county, there lived a man named Harris, who had two daughters. The elder of the two was called Eliza. Those were rough times, and very few people were permitted to live in that part of Missouri. Quantrell recruited most of his celebrated guerrilla band from that section. One of his men was Si Porter, a tall, straight, athletic young man, of quiet demeanor, but great courage. Quantrell counted him one of his best men. He and Eliza Harris met and fell in love. She was a bold, determined girl of strong physique, and she resolved to marry Porter and share his fortunes in the saddle. She did so, and was a sort of daughter of the regiment to Quantrell's command during one entire summer of their fighting and raiding on the Missouri and Kansas borders. She endured all the privations and dangers of one of the most reckless forms of guerrilla warfare ever known and escaped with her husband unharmed. When the war was over they went to California, where Porter fell into a profitable business and made a fortune, and to-day that same Eliza Harris and Si Porter are in Paris looking after the education of their children. This is one of the romances of Quantrell's command that has never been published."—Washington Post.

Grover Takes It Philosophically.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The Post to-morrow will say: "The President takes the result calmly and philosophically. He talked quite freely about the returns and the increased R-publican vote, but expressed not the slightest regret in the world at any action he had taken during his Administration. He is willing to admit that his position on the tariff and the decided stand he took in favor of revenue reduction may have lost him a good many votes, but still maintains that if it were to do over again he would follow his own convictions. The President received no telegrams from the National Committee until late to-night. From what he has heard, however, he concedes that he is defeated. He attributes his defeat to no one in particular, and says that Hill and Tammammy Hall treated him with perfect fairness, and he has no fault to find at all."

AUSTIN IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.—L. W. Getchell, formerly Assemblyman and University Regent, has organized in Chicago a stock company under the above title. The stockholders have leased the Toiyabe, Isabella, and London mines, and have agreed with the Manhattan Mining and Reduction Company, of Austin, to work them for the period of their lease, giving the latter a certain per cent. on the assay value of the ore to be worked at the Manhattan mill. L. W. Getchell has been appointed superintendent and manager of the mine, and has consequently full charge of the plant.

A "KNIFE."—The New York Evening Post gives the following definition of the term "knife," which has come into American politics with a specific application to the New York Sun and Mr. Dana, in this campaign:

The "knife" must profess outward good-will to the candidate whom he is "knifing," so as to injure him more effectively by spreading stories or predictions, or making "admissions," which, coming from an open enemy, would do him little harm, but coming from a professed friend make more or less impression.

Mr. James' interpretation of "Virginus" is at once powerful and sympathetic. He compares well with his predecessors in the character; indeed, few of the present tragedians can equal him as this grand old Roman father. He is at his best in the Forum scene. The tenderness of the father and the heroic desire to save his daughter from an awful fate were depicted with rare skill, and won, as the fine acting deserved, round after round of applause. Nor was Mr. James wanting in the last act, where he portrayed the broken-hearted hero with a tenderness that won instant recognition. Indeed, throughout the entire play he was faultless in execution and in attention to byplay. Miss Wainwright was a rarely handsome "Virginus," and moved and acted with all the artless grace that the character is capable of. The support afforded the stars was excellent and the presentation throughout was all that could be desired. —New York Star.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: A highly appreciative audience greeted Louis James and Marie Wainwright at the Grand last night in "Virginus." There seemed to be nothing missing. The progress of the play was smooth from the time the curtain went up until it descended on the death of "Virginus," beside the body of "Appius Claudius," and without a jar, Mr. James and Miss Wainwright being repeatedly called before the curtain. There is something pleasing about the "Virginus" of Mr. James; it is not a muscular creation, but an intellectual one. There is no storm in his acting, but a smooth, intelligent, perfect interpretation of the noblest of characters. Miss Wainwright's "Virginus" was like worthy of praise, being one of the sweetest and most beautiful characters, perfectly natural, and free from any of the harsh, artificial emotion, in action and speech, for which opportunity can be and is frequently found.

EXPERIMENTS WITH ALFALFA.

An Interesting Report from Mr. W. F. Johnson, of the Illinois State University.

Experiments have been made the present year at the Illinois State University at Champaign in the use of alfalfa in Illinois soils with encouraging results. W. F. Johnson, of that institution, has just sent a small package of alfalfa branches and roots to the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, accompanied by a letter in which he says:

"The striking features of the plant are the length and strength of the roots, which are nearly two feet long as you see, while they have left in the earth fully two feet more beyond the broken end. The patch from which these were taken, a third of an acre, was black soil land heavily set in blue grass. It was broken last November, sown with the alfalfa seed the last week in April, 1888, cut for the first time July 18, the second time Aug. 25, or later, and the foliage growth which you see is the third crop for the first year. The crop was grown without irrigation, and with little rain from the first week in July to the same time in September. So far as my experiment enables me to judge, I conclude that alfalfa may be made a success in Illinois if, in the first place, proper means are taken to secure a full stand, and there is clean cultivation the first and liberal fertilization every second year with potash and phosphate.

THE RESULT IN HUMBOLDT.—The Silver State says:

Returns from all precincts in the county with which there is telegraphic communication, indicate the election of the Democratic ticket with the exception of District Attorney and School Superintendent, and possibly one Assemblyman. Scarcely a precinct was indulged in to an unusual extent in this precinct, and the result attained was accomplished. Democrats voting for Republicans and Republicans voting for Democrats. The only precinct so far heard from where there was anything like straight voting, is Rye Patch. There was little or no attention paid to the Constitutional amendments, only a few voting for or against them.

Hospitality Abused.

"It must afford you much satisfaction, Mr. Spunjal," said one of the guests, "to see your twenty-five years of wedded life so happily rounded out and so pleasantly celebrated by such a large company of neighbors and friends as this."

"Er—of course," replied Mr. Spunjal, looking dubiously at the presents spread out in an adjoining room, "but it doesn't seem to have occurred to anybody to make me a present of a table to put all that silverware on, and I had to borrow one. I think it's a damned shame."

His Birthday Presents to His Wife.

"To-morrow, Maria, will be your birthday, and I want to give you some appropriate present. What shall it be?"

"Whatever your kind heart may suggest, John."

(Next day.) "Maria, you know how your poor back has suffered from pulling off my boots in the evening. It will not suffer any more, my love. See! I have brought you a nice new bootjack which I will use hereafter instead."

A Victim to His Wife's Rapacity.

"Seems to me you are always wanting money, Mary Jane. I gave you 75 cents yesterday. Do you think I am a gold mine? Here's a quarter."

(Uptown an hour later.) What's that? Carry this State by 15,000? I've got $50 that says he won't. Put up gentlemen, or shut up. Money talks!

Mamma Suspicious.

Bessie (just home from boarding school)—I'm delighted to see you, mamma. (Kisses her.)

Mamma (regarding her suspiciously)—Bessie, you didn't kiss with a burrowing motion when you went away from home. You've learned that from somebody with a long mustache!

"Who killed Cock Giver?"

"I," says Mr. Wear.

"'Tis by all confessed I killed Cock Giver."

"Who saw him die?"

"I," says Mr. Bayard.

"He seemed to die hard—I saw him die."

"Who'll tell the bell?"

"I," says little Dan.

"I'm the proper man. I'll tell the bell."

"Who'll be chief corner?"

"I," says Mr. Thurman.

"I can't preach the sermon, but I'll be chief mourner."

"Who'll pay the bills?"

"Not I," says Chairman Price.

"I'll pack him in ice, but I can't pay the bills."

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word malaria was comparatively unknown,—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the liver which, in performing its functions, finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of M. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, in all cases, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, relieves wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. For sale by Wm. Pinner, Reno.
